

Scale-Out Architecture

The scale-out architecture links together several Ignition Gateways to form a decentralized system. The workload is split between tags and I/O Gateways that handle device data and front-end Gateways that handle client applications. This architecture scales out easily without overloading any single Gateway.

